My dear Prof. Douglass:

You will probably remember that after the delivery of your paper in St. Louis on "Evidence of climatic effects in the annual rings of trees", I said that we would be very glad to publish this paper in the new journal of the Ecological Society. Since the committee to start the journal had only just been appointed at that time it seems appropriate to let you know a little about our progress. You are already familiar with the giving of the Plant World to the Society to be continued as our official publication. Although our membership and the Plant World subscription list will probably be sufficient to render the publication self supporting, we are making more certain by cooperating with the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, which will guarantee to cover a reasonable deficit, while leaving to the Society complete We have decided to issue an illustrated quarterly editorial control. Our field is as you see large, and the workers in known as "Ecology". The first issue will be that for January 1920 but will it numerous. come out somewhat later.

The committee has appointed me editor-in-chief, in which capacity I am receiving manuscripts for publication. I will therefore be very glad to have your paper.

Hoping you will continue the interesting work you are doing along this line, and that I will have the pleasure of seeing you again, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Doctor Moore:

I have your letter of the 19th and should have answered it sooner, but for lack of stenographic help.

The article referred to will follow this letter within a day. I made a full set of illustrations explantern sizes slides which accompany the article, but thinking they were too small I am sending also the targer originals from which your engraver can probably make more satisfactory illustrations. I would be greatly obliged if you would take special care of these originals, especially the enlargements, and return them to me after use.

I would be glad to have you stop off here at Tucson if you have a chance and take a look at all my tree samples. Trusting to meet you again, I am

Sincerely yours.

Let me hear from you about the cost of the illustrations. It may be better to omit some of them, such as numbers 7, 8, and 9.

My dear Prof. Douglass:

Your letter of February 3rd reached me some time ago. I have awaited the article before replying, and received it yesterday.

I much appreciate your sending the originals for the illustrations and shall take special care of them. I shall probably take them to New York with me in March, and send them to the publisher from there. I can then let you know about their cost.

Nothing would give me more pleasure than to stop off at Tucson, but, with the present travelling conditions, and railroad regulations, we find it necessary to go straight through.

Thanking you for your most interesting article, and looking forward to the pleasure of seeing you again, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Prof. Douglass:

On re-reading your article on "Evidence of Climatic Effects in the Annual Rings of Trees" it appears to me that your first paragraph on page 2 interrupts the reader's thought as he is following the three kinds of climatic evidence. I have therefore taken the liberty of putting this paragraph at the beginning since it forms a fitting opening and could go nowhere else. I am also omitting figure 2, which is from Huntington, and instead of "Figure 2 shows a similar comparison" I have put "Huntington has made a similar comparison", and have cited the reference to a foot note. I feel sure that you will approve of these slight changes when you see them.

Could you give me the citation to the pamphlet which you mention by J. C. Kapteyn of Holland? This would be interesting to include.

Would you please address your reply to New York since I leave here in a few days.

Sincerely yours,

Barington moore

My dear Dr. Moore:-

I have yours of February 28th and am very sure that your judgment on the points of rearrangement is entirely good, possibly excepting the omission of Fig. 2. That comparison between rain and sequoia is not in Huntington's book but it is in mine, on page 71. It is only the rainfall curve that is in his. He had a different sequoia curve and also had an error of one year in the dating of it. Fig. 1 has appeared before in Americab Forestry, Vol. 23, page 732, Dec. 1917.

But of the two, Fig. 2 is less amportant.

I notice an error on page 4, lines 11 and farther along on the same line. The word "above" should be "alone" in the two cases where it appears. The word "integrate" is spelled wrongly on the last page and I suppose that there may be other mistakes. I shall be very glad to have any improvements.

The only copynof Kapteyn's work which I have was printed I suppose in Pasadena. Dr. Fuller sent me a citation of the publishing of the same thing, I presume, in a foreign publication but at the moment I have mislaid it. I will try to send it later.

With best regards, Very sincerely,

My dear Dr. Douglass:

Your letter of March 3d has reached me, and I am very glad to have the information about figure 2. I have restored this and inserted a few words in the text to show that the rainfall part of the figure only is from Huntington.

I am sorry you had the bother about the citation of Kapteyn's work. Since writing you, I have found this:

"Tree Growth and Meteorological Factors.' Rec. Trav. Bot. Néerland 11: 70 1914."

Dear Professor Douglass:

Your letter of May 20th, enclosing the galley proof of your article and the check for $20.00 has reached me. This is extremely generous of you, and I greatly appreciate it.

without charge if ordered at the time the galley is returned. Since you, of course, could not know this, I have ordered these fifty for you. As many more as you wish can be secured at cost. How much the cost is we have not yet learned from the printer. I would suggest that you write directly to the New Era Printing Company, 41 North Queen St., Lancaster, Pa., telling them the number of reprints you wish in addition to the fifty already ordered, and whether they should be with or without covers, since there is an additional charge for covers.

With renewed thanks, and best wishes,

Dear Douglass: --

I have just had a wire from Cannon and Free at Carmel, who say that they will be unabbe to get away from there this month. MacDougall wrote me some time ago, expressing doubt as to his ability to be at Faagstaff for our proposed meeting. In view of these facts I wonder if it would not be better to put off the conference until later in the season. We may be able to find a favorable time in August or September. What time would be most convenient for you?

Sincerely yours,
